A cyclic redundancy check (CRC) is a non-secure hash function designed to detect accidental changes to digital data in computer networks; as a result, it is not suitable for detecting maliciously introduced errors. It is characterized by specification of what is called a generator polynomial, which is used as the divisor in a polynomial long division over a finite field, taking the input data ...

The sklearn.multiclass module implements meta-estimators to solve multiclass and multilabel classification problems by decomposing such problems into binary classification problems. Multitarget regression is also supported. Multiclass classification means a classification task with more than two classes; e.g., classify a set of images of fruits which may be oranges, apples, or pears.
